CHURCHILL'S POLITICAL IDEALS.

AGAINST SOCIALISM.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

LONDON, March 6.

Mr. Scott Duckers, the Liberal candidate for the Abbey Division of Westminster, has written to Mr. Stanley Baldwin, leader of the Conservative Party, asking him to state whether he in any way supports Mr. Winston Churchill's candidature.

Mr. Churchill, interviewed to-day, emphasised that his political position had not changed compared with the last twenty years, when he had always fought both Protection and Socialism. Even if the whole weight of the Conservative Party machine opposed him he would not feel resentment and would not return the attack. But he would rejoice at an opportunity of co-operating with the Conservatives since they had returned to a progressive platform.

LABOUR'S CHOICE.

LONDON, March 6.

Mr. Fenner-Brockway, Secretary of the Labour Party, has been adopted as Labour candidate for the Abbey Division of Westminster. Mr. Havelock Wilson has abandoned his intention of standing as a Trade Unionist Candidate.

ANGER IN COURT.

HIGH TREASON TRIAL.

PROSECUTOR INDIGNANT.

MUNICH, March 6.

The action of the two prosecutors in indignantly leaving the court followed a remark by one of the defendants' counsel that a regular mania for arrests prevailed on the side of the prosecution, but they had not arrested those guilty of the blood bath of November 9, meaning Kahr, Lössow, and Seisser. The audience applauded this remark, whereupon the chief prosecutor left, banging the door violently behind him.

The Court later assembled again when counsel for the defendants apologised, but it is not yet certain whether the prosecutor will return.

CLAIM FOR £2,000,000.

INSURANCE FRAUD SEQUEL.

JUDGMENT RESERVED.

LONDON, March 6.

After twenty-four days' hearing in the Chancery Court, Mr. Justice Romer reserved judgment in the case in which the Official Receiver, as liquidator of the City Equitable Fire Insurance Company asked on a misfeasance summons that Gerard Lee Bevan who was sentenced on December 5, 1922 to jail for fraud, and the other directors and auditors of the Company should be ordered to pay £2,000,000, the amount of the losses resulting from Bevan's frauds.

The respondents denied that they were guilty of any breach of trust.

INTERNATIONAL GOLF.

MIAMI, (FLORIDA), March 7.

In the final of the international golf team championship the Americans Melhorn and MacDonald Smith defeated the Americans Brady and Jock Hutchison by 4 up and 3 to play. In the semi-final the professionals Havers and Ockenden were beaten by two holes and the American Magen and the Australian Kirkwood by one hole.—Reuter's American Service.

ANOTHER STORM WEATHERED.

LONDON, March 6.

The House of Commons rejected by 240 to 170 votes the Conservative motion to reduce the supply vote as a protest against the agreement with Germany with regard to the British reparations levy. The Liberals voted with the Government.

DUTCH EAST INDIES.

OIL TAX INSTITUTED.

THE HAGUE, March 7.

The First Chamber passed by 24 votes to 14 a bill retaining the tax on produce in the East Indies and instituting the oil tax previously mentioned.

SWITZERLAND'S DECISION.

BERNE, March 7.

The Committee of the National Council has decided with one dissentient to propose ratification of the Opium Convention.

STILL IN THE AIR.

SINGAPORE BASE SPECULATION.

REPORTS PREMATURE.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

LONDON, March 6.

The newspaper report that the Cabinet has decided not to proceed with the Singapore base scheme is not confirmed officially. The Cabinet Committee under the chairmanship of Mr. J. R. Clynes, Deputy Leader of the House of Commons, is considering the scheme and has not yet made its report.

An official interviewed by Reuter to-day said the question was so important that the decision would probably be first announced in Parliament. "The report may or not be correct, but it is premature."

It is hoped the committee will report to the Cabinet next week.

[An earlier cable stated that notwithstanding Mr. Ammon's statement in the House of Commons, the Daily Mail understands that at a Cabinet meeting held yesterday, a report was received from Mr. Clynes, Chairman of the Sub-Committee on the Singapore base proposal. The Daily Mail says there is good reason to state that the Government has decided not to proceed with the project, and the newspapers advance the opinion that resignations from the Board of the Admiralty are to be expected unless the Government announces that it has over-ridden the Naval Staff's advice.]

LATER,

The Press Association understands that the Government has decided not to proceed with the Singapore scheme. The decision has been communicated to the Dominions and the Government will await their replies before making an announcement in the House of Commons.

PHAROAH'S GLORIES.

TREASURE TOMB RECEPTION.

ELABORATE CEREMONY.

LUXOR, March 6.

Tutankhamen's tomb was reopened this afternoon, when about 200 distinguished personages were present, including Lord Allenby, the Egyptian Ministers, foreign diplomats and members of Parliament, admitted as guests of the Egyptian Government to view the gold-covered coffin.

The guests travelled in special trains. Elaborate ceremonies included the slaying of two bulls as a sacrifice in the centre of Luxor, as was customary in the days of the pharaohs. The streets were decorated and a banquet in the evening was followed by a fete and fireworks.

Neither Mr. Howard Carter, who discovered the tomb for the late Lord Carnarvon, nor his staff were present.

Poincaré, the Premier, told the Committee to-day that he would resign unless it changed its view by Tuesday.

TROUBLE IN MOROCCO.

Mustard Gas.

MANY CASUALTIES DURING MANUFACTURE.

Some of the inner history of the invention and manufacture of mustard gas was disclosed at a sitting of the War Inventions Commission at the Law Courts, London, when Mr. Justice Tomlin, the president, heard the claim of Dr. H. Levinstein and Professor L. Green in respect of mustard gas.

It was contended for the claimants that the gas was the only product of this class which was used by the British army. The invention was made on a large scale at the works of the British Dyes and Chemicals Corporation, Ltd. At the request of the Government the applicants supplied all information at their disposal and their working drawings to the Government of the United States free of charge, and thus enabled their product to be manufactured on an immense scale, without delay. In the same way the invention and drawings were placed at the disposal of the Italian Government.

Sir Duncan Kerley said that at the first attempt to make a large quantity of the gas the whole pot bubbled up and got out of its container, and but for the fact that a covered catwalk had been provided, every man on the job would have been killed and the works themselves would have been unapproachable for weeks. In May, 1916, they were told that nothing could be of greater military importance than a quick supply of mustard gas, and our troops were being discouraged by the fact that the Germans had got this stuff, while we had none.

Counsel went on to refer to the attempt of the Ministry of Munitions to make this gas at Avonmouth, and said there were 1,400 casualties there.

Mustard gas was used for the first time in the field in September, 1916, in the artillery preparation for the Fourth Army's attack on the Hindenburg Line. Two nights before the attack several villages near the line and many strong points and gun positions were shelled with mustard gas for six hours. In the latter case the effect of the gas was seen as soon as the shells burst and ceased life and movement almost for twenty-four hours or longer.

DANGEROUS DRINK.

HUNDREDS OF DEATHS IN "DRY" AMERICA.

The "Bootleg" deathroll which is bound to be taken into Congress early in the session in the effort to obtain a modification of the prohibition amendment, has been made more appalling by the reports that are reaching New York from the several States, states a New York wire of December 31.

New York, which did everything in its power to prevent poisonous liquor from entering the city, today reports that the Christmas casualties total eleven deaths and the authorities are anxious over the New Year toll.

The Coroner's office in Philadelphia has reported that in that city alone there were 875 deaths from poisonous liquor, despite the efforts of the city and State to keep the smuggled liquor out.

Other States are reporting lists as heavy in proportion and it is generally believed that nothing can prevent the prohibition issue from becoming one of the big issues before Congress and also one of the issues in the election.

SPEND HOLIDAYS IN CANADA. Montreal officials on December 31, estimated that at least 5,000 persons went to Montreal from the United States to celebrate the New Year in a wet city and to avoid the dangers of poisonous liquor.

Hotels were full and many private houses had American guests for the New Year.

Other places in Canada where liquor may be sold report similar increases in the number of tourists. While it is known that some of the poisonous liquor that reaches the United States is manufactured at Montreal, the visitors have apparently no fear of the liquor that is sold over Canadian bars.

The visitors say they came to Montreal to save their lives. They are doing it in orderly thorough fashion.

BLIND POLICE.

The New York newspapers and the police are in direct conflict over what actually happened in New York during the celebration of New Year's Eve.

The police, who had a hundred extra plain clothes men visiting the cafes, declared the celebration was dry to the extreme. They cited the fact that they arrested but six persons out of the millions who celebrated, as proof that there was a liquor famine in the city.

The newspapers, who also had representatives visiting the cafes, declared they know better and cite the six arrests as a glaring testimonial to the inefficiency of the police and prohibition enforcement agents.

Some of the papers say the city was never wetter so far as the cafes were concerned and that the police merely closed their eyes and "bamboozled" the prohibition element.

The newspaper observers declared that anyone with the price could get all the liquor he wanted, and that apparently very few looked the price, for every cafe was crowded. The rum fleet appears to have landed its cargo, they said, and to have distributed it effectually and impartially.

DISTRACTIONS.

If there is any piece of advice that goes begging nowadays, it is that which seeks to urge that words forming definite and dogmatic statements should be weighed before they are either uttered or committed to print and publication. We are reminded of this by two such pieces of dogmatism from entirely different sources in the Colony—and probably, two entirely different shades of thought. Each year at this particular period of it, those concerned are told by those responsible for the publication of St. John's Cathedral "Church Notes" that "there is a special danger of increasing slackness out here due partly to the climate . . . and partly also to the fact that people here have generally more money than they had in England." There is also a reference that there is a good deal of money making and amusement in the Colony, and that a life of both is dangerous. These presumably wise and warning words are meant more particularly for those connected with the Cathedral Church. Whether they do or do not, they contain statements which are strictly speaking not accurate. A comparison of life in the East and at Home cannot be considered fair. There is a difference undoubtedly in which such a climate as ours plays a great part, resulting in a large measure to the almost universal custom of outdoor games which is all to the good. Many who look at the remains of their salary each month after paying the claims upon it will smilingly agree that "money-making is dangerous." There is a reference in these "Notes" to "when it comes to a dance five nights a week" without any confirming evidence that there are people who do this kind of things. It may be that all these strictures are meant for those "who profess and call themselves Christians" and where they apply we trust they will have the needed effect. We are in entire sympathy with the epigrammatic sentence that "there are many people who would enjoy themselves more if they took less amusement," but it all needs sensible elucidation.

Labour "Down Under."

Political factions in New South Wales would seem to be bent on staging something in the nature of a farcical-tragedy. The Labour Party has become a hopelessly divided household. Though the rift may make the unskilful among its friends laugh, it cannot but make the judicious grieve. To-day the organisation has two suns in its firmament—two executive heads, and this is a case where two heads are not better far than one for counsel or for fight. A definite cleavage in the ranks of the Labour Party in Australia was bound to come sooner or later, and sooner of all in the parent State, where, to a greater extent than anywhere else, it has been white-anted by the Communists. Things have come to such a pass that a reconciliation of the two factions has apparently got past praying for. The comrades are at daggers drawn, the enmity between them being more bitter, as in the case of all family quarrels, than is their enmity towards those outside the domestic circle. The occasion might be hailed with acclamation by their political adversaries—the Nationalists and the Country Party—but as a matter of fact the relations of these two parties are only a degree more cordial than are those subsisting between the two wings of the Labour Party. The pot and the kettle are almost equally black.

Crackers.

The time is coming when the insane indiscriminate firing of crackers for the mere sake of making a noise will have to cease. Human nature has its limits, and the limit at this and recent times is about reached. It is true there are prohibited areas and it is equally true that the person who desires to make a noise does not worry about prohibition. The custom of cracker firing at a stated time is national; it probably conduces to good feeling and helps trade, and no one would willingly wish to deprive those concerned of any enjoyment they get out of it. The thing is when the custom is extended and day and night made hideous with sudden and unexpected bursts of uproar—tending to jagged nerves and murmurings "sweet and low." Things are taking shape in Shanghai to a suppression of this form of noise. The Chinese Advisory Committee to the Municipal Council have been petitioned by representative Chinese with a request to approach the Council and draw up a regulation making the throwing of crackers and firing them in public places an offence. Until the Chinese in Hongkong themselves take up the matter in this way, we are not prepared to advise that similar regulations be made here. But we do think that no one would object to a close season and an ordinance being made forbidding the firing or setting off of crackers before or after Chinese New Year. If it is desired to serenade departing taipans who have done so much for the Colony—and themselves, then permission to do so from the Governor in Council should have to be sought.

To the list of tomb-epitaphs, stone epitaphs that are at least arresting, must be added the late Rev. S. Baring-Gould's over his wife's grave. The words are "Dimidium animae meae" ("Half my soul"). These are exquisite and beautiful, and unlike a lot of other epitaphs, very true. Mrs. Baring-Gould had been a factory lass, but after some educational preparation and on her marriage, adapted herself with great success to her new responsibilities with such success, as to earn the beautiful tribute recorded above.

So far the policy of the Home Labour or Socialist Government on the question of Housing has not been made known, but if a quotation from a speech of the Health Minister is anything to go by it will follow the lines of the less laid down in the Rents Ordinance for which we have to thank H. E. the Governor. Here is the quotation—"I am going to lay down this general principle, that no section of the people should have the power to enrich themselves out of the scarcity and poverty of the community. I have no doubt when the Labour Government forms its policy it will protect the people from any exploitation of that kind." If our Rents Ordinance has not prevented that "power to enrich" out of the scarcity and poverty of the community, we should like to know what it has done!

In view of the oil scandals which are coming to light in America; and the odour attached to the word politician in America, can English politics be held up as pure and spotless? A conservative M.P. does not think so. He maintains that there has been a distinct political life, and whole tone of political life, and that Parliaments in succession are getting worse. "The amount of lying, slander and utter lack of patriotism on real love for the welfare of people baffles description," he declared. "Unless young men and women do really set their minds to insist upon truth, honesty and patriotism in politics then I say, heaven help this country." Amen!

Although the Japanese, as we have taken kindly to other drinks—notably beer, they remain firm to sake, the drinking of which formed part of the recent Imperial marriage ceremony in Tokyo. Sake is generally drunk warm, the bottle which contains it being immersed in boiling water. Though to the palate accustomed to strong liquors sake may appear rather innocuous and its alcoholic strength is not great, it has a pleasantly exhilarating effect, and the Japanese of the cooler climate, who drink the spirit just after it has been distilled, certainly manage to get "forader" on it. Beer of the lager sort has been made in Japan for at least thirty years.

We read of an ex-lavish Mayor at Home who has been forced to enter the workhouse. He was once a successful tradesman, and his downfall is attributed to his too generous disposition, and a purse which was at the command of all. We are not certain how to comment on this. The trouble is that persons known to have generous dispositions seem easily to be imposed upon and have the Mark Sabre gift of seeing the other side of a case. Shakespeare's dictum of "Neither a borrower nor a lender be" is doubtless a very excellent piece of advice. We have generally heard it used by men reasonably well-off and that alleged strong-willed type of man who is dogmatic, forceful, and possessed of as much imagination and feeling as a tenpenny rabbit. We confess to a fellow-feeling for the ex-Mayor. We seem to know what he has had to meet. Our informant describes it as an honourable poverty. May be!

THE OSTRICH. The legend that the ostrich buries its head in the sand has been exploded. It does that only in books. The only thing about an ostrich is that it has a scotch characteristic. It is long in the neck and is canny. That's why it goes in for nest eggs!

CLOCKS. Everybody should be pleased. Ullmans took their clock with them to their new abode and for days our eyes wandered to the familiar spot where once it hung. Lane Crawford's have now hung a clock in a convenient position at the corner of Queen's Road which should prove a boon and a blessing. If any O.B.E.s are knocking about we hope they will be given to the proprietors of Sennet Peres Lane Crawford, Ullmans, and Mackintosh Ltd., who have provided the Colony with clocks—free gratis and for nothing."

To-day's Poet.

(The Song of the Clipper Ships.)
Oh, the seas have had their fill of us
From Shanghai to the Horn,
Calm and gale their will of us
Since sailormen were born.
Tasting Western Ocean brine
From the Circle to the Line,
Far and wide our paths entwined,
Paths our keels have worn.

Oh, the typhoon has made sport of us
From Hope to Java Head;
There's tale in every port of us
Where deep sea-men are bred.
Out of Salem to the Plate,
Suez to the Golden Gate,
Hearts of oak for any fate,
Far our trails have led.

Oh, men called it fair, the sight of us
With royal salt sails set,
Six oceans knew the might of us,
In far-flung seas we met;
Standing to a hurricane.

Rag of sail on fore and main,
None will see our like again,
None our deeds forget.
—Marc T. Greene.

It sells products of Chinese and foreign make at fixed prices of $1.50 cents, and 30 cents each. Girls are employed for the first time in Peking to serve at the counters.

A touching little romance is told in police circles in Peking to the effect that a woman by the name of Chang was arrested in Mukden on the charge of kidnapping and was sent back to Peking to add to the "captivity" of her accomplices. She seemed to have a way with her, for during the trip down she so completely "vamped" her police escort that the two are now enjoying a honeymoon at Hatten and it is expected that her marriage will save her from the Mukden court.

The death occurred on February 13 of Sir Frank McCarthy, who was for nearly 32 years editor of the Rangoon Gazette and partner in the firm of the Rangoon Gazette and British Burma Presses. After this long period of arduous duties in Burma, with leave neither frequent nor long, he severed his connection with the business in November, 1920, coincidentally with his election as the first member to represent the European constituency of Burma in the Imperial Legislative Assembly, of which he subsequently became President.

It is also intended for a place of safety in case of catastrophe.

IMPUDENT ROBBERY.

THIEF GETS AWAY WITH NOTES.

As the day's takings were being checked at the counter of a shop in Hollywood Road yesterday evening, a man who gave the impression that he was visiting the adjacent store, walked up and grabbed two bundles of notes. Surprise ensued as he was able to dash out into the street and turn into Square Street. The shop folks gave chase but lost sight of their quarry in a crowded part of the street where an orchestra was performing. The shop where the robbery was committed was occupied by the Wing Yee rice firm, No. 205, Hollywood Road. A report was made subsequently to the police when the loss was placed at $496.

When searched the toy pistol was found. His Worship sentenced defendant to seven days' imprisonment for larceny of the pipe and a month's hard labour for possession of the toy weapon.

APRIL 13.

LOCAL LAWYER'S UNLUCKY DAY.

"That is my unlucky day" protested a solicitor, Mr. W. F. Corbett, at the Summary Court this morning when Mr. Justice Gompertz offered him March 13 as a date for the hearing of a case in which he was interested.

His Honour considered the point for a moment and then smilingly suggested that perhaps it might be a lucky day for the other side.

The hearing of the case, one in which Police Sergt. F. T. James and his wife are suing the Moon Garage as the sequel to a collision on the Repulse Bay Road, was accordingly fixed for the date mentioned. It had previously been set down for hearing on February 13 but was struck out because neither the plaintiffs nor their solicitor turned up. When representations were made to Mr. Justice Gompertz, however, he allowed it to be reinstated.

BILLIARDS.

The billiard table at the Palace Hotel is one of the best in the Colony and amateurs are sure of a pleasant game. The last handicap was won by the local champion, Mr. A. J. O'Connell, from 300 behind scratch.

PRESIDENT'S TELEGRAMS.

NAVAL OIL LEASE SCANDAL.

STATEMENT FROM WHITE HOUSE.

(Reuter's American Service.)

WASHINGTON, March 6.
The following telegram from President Coolidge to Mr. McLean in Florida, dated January 12, was placed on record by the oil committee to-day:—
"Prescott is away. Advise Slomp with whom I shall confer."
Slomp, the President's secretary, was then in Florida. Members of the committee are not aware who Prescott was.
The President telegraphed to McLean at Palm Beach on February 12:—
"Thank you for your message. You have always been considerate. Mrs. Coolidge joins me in sending kindest regards to Mrs. McLean."
President Coolidge immediately made a statement from the White House saying that the matters mentioned in his message related to questions of the local government of the district of Columbia in which Washington is located.
The President explained that he desired to confer with Prescott who was Republican City Chairman regarding district matters.
Mr. Coolidge declared that the second telegram was a reply to Mr. McLean's telegram congratulating the President on his Lincoln's day speech, and amounted merely to an exchange of amenities.

INCOME TAX SECRETS.

Mr. Coolidge declined to submit to the oil committee tax returns of individuals and corporations prominently mentioned in the oil investigation, stating that the acting Attorney-General advised him that the President is without authority to comply with such requests.
Mr. Coolidge however offers to co-operate in an effort to secure amendment of the regulations which would permit the committee to inspect the returns.
"FRAUD."
It is announced that the Government next week will begin suit for cancellation of the oil lease granted to the Doheny and Sinclair interests on the ground of "fraud and illegality."
An injunction will also be asked for restraining the lessees from making any further drillings.
The court has been requested to appoint receivers to control the Government properties pending litigation.

EARLIER CABLES.

The question of the retirement of Mr. Daugherty has again been given serious attention, and it is even stated that White House is considering the selection of his successor.
One of the reasons for the recrudescence of the demand for his resignation is the alleged disclosures resulting from the Grand Jury investigation by the Chicago Bureau, during which the Jury reported that Government funds were used for speculation and sums paid to two members of Congress.
The disclosures are stated to relate to matters over which Mr. Daugherty had technical jurisdiction as head of the Department of Justice.

TO PREVENT ATTACK.

It is announced that Mr. McLean's congratulations related to the President's reply to the Senate's demand for the resignation of Mr. Denby.
Speaking in the Senate, Senator Lodge warmly defended President Coolidge in connection with the telegrams to McLean, declaring that they were perfectly trivial and easily explained. He said there should be no attack to protect the President from such attacks on the part of Senators.

HEATED SENATE DEBATE.

WASHINGTON, March 7.
Replying to Senator Lodge, Senator Harrison denied he had attacked the President. An altercation then ensued between Senators Harrison and Lodge terminating in Senator Harrison expressing the hope that the President would make an explanation and that the country would accept Senator Lodge's statement.
At this stage Senators Healin, Curray and McKellar intervened. Recalling that Senator Lodge was formerly one of ex-President Wilson's bitterest attackers, Senator Walsh charged Senator Lodge with trying to utilize the people's just respect and reverence for the presidency in order to "minimize the effects of the oil disclosure."
The debate gradually became more heated. Senator Curray again bitterly assailed Senator Lodge, declaring that everybody knows Wilson sleeps in his grave as a result of abuse and unjustified attacks levelled against him when President.

Dr. Ahlswede is the son of a noted London medical man. He studied at Cambridge, Sorbonne, Paris and in Germany and made a special study of dermatology at the Unna Clinic, Hamburg. The doctor specialises in deep X-ray therapy at the State Institute for the Study of Malignant Diseases, Buffalo, N.Y.
Dr. Ahlswede is quoted as an authority in his particular subject and his 80 medical papers have enhanced his reputation in the medical world. Among the more important of his works are "Red Light Treatment," "Non-specific Protein Therapy," "Non-specific therapy in Syphilis Treatment," and "Non-Surgical Treatment of Malignant Tumours." He has been engaged for the last three years on a treatise dealing with the treatment of the skin and venereal diseases which is to be published in the United States.

STEAMER AFIRE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

SINGAPORE, March 6.
Rangoon broadcasted an S.O.S. from the steamer "Strath Lorne" afire in the Bay of Bengal and later broadcasted that assistance was not required.

A Reuter cable from Washington says it is understood that the engagement will shortly be announced of the Honourable John Cecil, First Secretary to the British Embassy, and Miss Cornelia Vanderbilt, only daughter of the late George W. Vanderbilt. Miss Cornelia Vanderbilt's mother is one of the famous Dresser sisters.

SPIRITED AWAY.

MISSING LAUNCH MYSTERY.

UNSIGNED LETTER.

Police and Practical Joke Theory.

Yesterday the police received a letter in Chinese, purporting to be of an urgent nature, to the effect that the steam-launch "Kwong Shun" missing from the harbour since Sunday evening, was in a bay in the Heungshan district opposite Macao. It was posted in Macao and the exact locality of the bay was given, but the letter was not signed. The police are not inclined to attach any importance to this development, their opinion being that it is the act of an irresponsible person or, possibly, an effort of the culprits to throw the police off the scent.

Up till this afternoon, no authentic intelligence had been received at Central Station, nor had the Chinese ferry company's investigators reported anything substantial.

Guards and Telephones.

The "Kwong Shun's" owner—it being chartered by the ferry company—is reported as being in conference with the C.S.P. and the superintendent of the company yesterday when it was suggested that Indian guards be placed on the ferries and wharves. The owner and the company's representative are said to have expressed an opinion that the guards would be extremely useful but that the Government should be responsible for supplying the guards. Another proposal was that telephones be installed on the wharves for ready communication.

Indignation has been expressed in some Chinese quarters at the suggestion that soldiers professing allegiance to the Canton government have been responsible for spiriting the launch away. It is pointed out that if the Canton authorities were in need of a launch they could easily procure one in Canton where there are very many still flying the Chinese flag.

In the surmises as to the fate of the launch it has been said—providing pirates were responsible—that the gangs previously known to have operated on Swatow and Shanghai steamers are usually natives of the Wei-Yung districts (near Shanhai) but that those who have preyed on the river-boats in the estuary and delta of the Canton River, mostly hail from the Shuntak or Tungkum districts. Some who profess to know, believe the launch is now in one of the back-reaches of the East River if she has not been destroyed.

The disappearance of this launch has led to a number of rumours regarding people taken away to ransom in previous piracies. Many well-known local Chinese firms are said to have received applications for ransom of member(s) of their staffs.

MOTOR BOAT SEIZED.

BRITISH FLAG AGAIN FLOUTED.

"ROBIN" TO THE RESCUE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Canton, March 5.

An account of the recovery by H.M.S. "Robin" in Chinese waters of a motor-boat alleged to have been commandeered by soldiers, is given in the Canton vernacular papers this morning. The motor-launch "Wing Ning" was alongside a wharf at the Western Creek on Tuesday when fourteen non-Cantonese soldiers with labels marked "28th brigade, 14th division, 7th army corps" proceeded to the launch and declared that the vessel was requisitioned for military purposes.

The launch flies the British flag and is registered as the property of a British firm which is known to the Chinese as "Tung Fat Young Hong" and the manager personally lodged a protest. This was of no avail as the launch was forcibly taken to a place near Shek Cheng (where the Arsenal stands). A report was made to the British Consulate whereupon the "Robin" was despatched to bring the launch back. On the approach of the "Robin" the soldiers in charge fled to the shore. The "Robin" is stated to have opened fire with her machine-guns but no hits were registered. Shortly afterwards the motor-launch was brought back to Canton and resumed her run. The labels are in the hands of the Consulate and inquiries will be made.

HONGKONG SERVICES HOSPITALS.

QUESTIONS IN THE COMMONS.

MILITARY LANDS TRANSFER POINT.

LONDON, March 6.

In the House of Commons, in answer to questions, Mr. Wm. Graham, Financial Secretary to the Treasury, stated that negotiations were proceeding between the War Office and the Hongkong Government for the exchange of the properties there, including the existing parade ground and military hospital.
If and when settlement of this question was reached, the question of hospital accommodation required by the Navy and Army, would be reconsidered.—Reuter.

GERMANY'S PROBLEMS.

CHANCELLOR'S REICHSTAG STATEMENT.

BERLIN, March 7.

In a speech in the Reichstag Herr Stresemann announced that a bill for the establishment of a Gold Note Bank would be submitted. He rejected the idea of neutralising the Bank of the Rhineland by making it a buffer state and said he did not believe Mr. Ramsay MacDonald made such a proposal. He declared that Germany's disarmament was almost completed in the spring of 1922. Germany could not agree to replacing the inter-Allied Military Control Commission by a commission of guarantors.

NAM PAK HONG MARKETS.

MANY RICE STEAMERS ARRIVE.

There are few if any changes to report in the Nam Pak Hong quotations for Java sugar, rice and flour.
This week about a dozen ships (including those chartered) have arrived with rice cargoes from Saigon and a smaller number from Bangkok. It has not been able to re-ship the imports immediately on arrival as is customary and many lots have been landed into godown causing congestion. However, importers are not in the least inclined to lower prices and are prepared to hold on.

JAPANESE INSURANCE.

TOKYO, March 6.

The Privy Council is not willing to accept the Government's insurance proposal. It is understood that the Government has decided to pay the subsidy on its own responsibility, after which it will obtain the sanction of the Diet.—Reuter.

NO HOPE.

FOR FILIPINOS' INDEPENDENCE.

ANTI-AMERICAN BOYCOTT FAILURE.

MANILA, March 7.

A letter from President Coolidge stating that there is no hope of independence for the Philippines at present is regarded as knocking out the props under the local campaign to raise money by voluntary contributions to continue propaganda in the United States. A few thousand pesos have been raised so far to which three Americans, one of whom is a missionary and the other two business men, have contributed. The projected boycott of American merchants, newspapers etc., has failed to materialize to date though there are evidences of attempts being made and a chain letter advising a boycott is being circulated.—Reuter.

BRITAIN AND AMERICA.

WASHINGTON, March 4.

Interviewing Mr. Coolidge, Sir Esme Howard, the new British Ambassador, expressed on behalf of the King and Prime Minister cordial and sincere good-will and friendship towards the United States. He gave an assurance that he would always endeavour to maintain and promote in every possible manner the cordial Anglo-American relations so much desired by every member of the British Empire.

Mr. Coolidge cordially reciprocated the greetings, and declared that happily no clouds shadowed the relations between the two countries. He believed and was conscious that the identity of the general aims which the two nations were cherishing, and the similar ideals, disciplined by liberty, truth, and love of justice would be a mighty force in bringing the world to a just and lasting peace.—Reuter.

By his will, sworn at $111,951, Mr. G. B. White, a director of Messrs. Hartley, Cooper, and Co., underwriters, of Lloyd's, left $5,000 each to Harrow School, Christ's Hospital School, Horsham, and Lloyd's Benevolent Fund. Mr. Armand Guggenheim, Swiss Consul at Manchester, left estate of the gross value of £136,510.

TRADE TREATY.

BERLIN, March 5.

The German-Dutch Trade Treaty which expires on April 1 has been renewed for a period of three years. The prohibitive Import Duty raised in Holland against German footwear will then cease.—Reuter.

LOAN FOR SIAM.

LONDON, March 5.

The Financial News gives currency to a rumour that Siam will shortly issue a £1,000,000 loan in London.—Reuter.

RUBBER.

The output of Garing (Malacca) Rubber Estate for the year ended September 30, 1923, was 235,000 lbs. Net profit was £286, plus £249 brought in. Directors recommended writing off from discount on Debentures £1,000, carrying forward £67. Trading profit was £3,074, against £623. Gross average realised, was 1s. 15.5d. against 9.14d.

The total output of the Kallan Mining Administration mines for the week ending February 23, amounted to 44,091 tons and the sales during the period to 65,383 tons.

MODERN MARVELS. COMING WIRELESS WONDERS.

It is not many months since the broadcasting "boom" reached England, but already splendid progress has been made in many directions. Within the past week or so, an American programme sent out from Pittsburgh, and relayed in London, was picked up clearly in South Africa, the spoken word being carried a distance of more than 9,000 miles. The same notes of Big Ben, something the death-knell of 1923 were broadcast from London to 13th of Great.

It is obvious that as such excellent results have been achieved in a short time, with wireless in its absolute infancy, we may expect rapid progress in the near future; and with numerous experiments in all countries engaged in various branches of radio research, many new wireless wonders are likely to come to pass. Science has given this generation a wonderful force within the reach of all for education and amusement.

In the next few years the number of broadcasting stations will be increased, and instead of the restricted programme of today, we shall be able to broadcast, if we wish, for 12 hours a day; furthermore, several programmes to suit all tastes will be sent out simultaneously on different wave-lengths.

A RADIO TALK MACHINE.
We shall have more frequent and complete news bulletins, and a most important development will be the radio talk machine to record news received during absence. A special wave-length will be reserved for verbatim reports of the proceedings of Parliament to be sent out all the time the House is sitting. Interested citizens will thus be able to follow all debates. Complete concerts and theatre programmes will be frequently broadcast.

A popular future development will be the broadcasting of wireless photographs from all parts of the world illustrating the events mentioned in the news. House and public clocks of the future will probably be synchronised with signals sent out several times a day. Another useful development will be wireless alarm clocks worked by signals sent out every half hour in the morning. It will merely be necessary to set the clock to pick up the signal at the selected time.

Wireless sets of the future will undoubtedly be more efficient and compact, and will cost considerably less. Atmospheric "jamming" will be a thing of the past, and the amateur in the near future will receive a service which those of to-day might well regard with envy.

WIRELESS FINGER PRINTS.
The criminal of the future will find his chances of escape reduced to a minimum when his description, photograph, and possibly finger-prints, can be flashed all over the country in a few seconds.

Before discussing the development of radio sight, control, power and photographs, I would point out that although these branches of wireless research are in their embryo stage, the first barriers have been broken down, and they will be developed just as surely as the aeroplanes and battleships.

Having solved the problem of transmitting speech half-way round the globe, we now wish to be able to see the people with whom we are speaking, and "Television," or "wireless sight," will solve this problem in the future. To-day we could place a television machine "looking" at a field, and with twin apparatus one mile away, irrespective of obstacles, we could roughly state how many figures were moving in the field, but the "shadows" would be indistinct, and no details could be distinguished. Nearly ten years ago fairly successful partial vision was obtained over eight miles of telephone wire, and there is no reason why equal, or better, results should not eventually be obtained by wireless.

Television will do away with much of the present need of travel, and will speed up commerce generally. The business man who is indisposed and confined to his bed will be able to keep in touch with affairs by wireless.

SEEING BY WIRELESS.
Expensive educational facilities will be within the reach of all, for a dozen colleges could be linked up by wireless, and all pupils would have a professor's lecture and see any diagrams drawn. A popular development will be that instead of fighting to get to the Cup Final, Derby, or Boat Race, you will sit, perhaps in a cinema, and see the event by wireless sight, at the actual time of it taking place.

At present, apart from active interference, we could control an aeroplane for a hundred-mile flight and bring it back to the aerodrome, and our wireless-control methods will quickly improve. During war and peace of the future we shall control aeroplanes, torpedoes, tanks, tanks, tanks and submarines. A great advantage is that pilotless aeroplanes will be able to rise to the upper air where the wind resistance is less, although lack of air prevents pilots attaining that height, and they will be able to travel at enormous speeds with special engines.

It should be explained that wireless control is not a process of sending power; it is merely sending directions to the power that is on the spot in order that it may be applied as required. Toy aeroplanes can be controlled—these are now being sold—but this "toy" method has no real value, as any radio set can obtain equal control over the object. To obviate this in scientific control directions are sent by a secret combination of different wave lengths on the principle of the letter lock.

Early experiments in the transmission of induced power have been sufficiently successful to prove that it is only a question of patient research to bring it to a state of real efficiency. Even to-day, by an expenditure of a few horse-power we can totally destroy inductively a thin iron wire at a distance of about four feet without any connection. The use of wireless power as a destructive agent, say to crumble up the rigging of an aeroplane, does not entail sending waves of heat through air, as it would obviously exhaust itself on the journey. The problem is to transfer energy as "electrical" oscillation which would generate heat when it actually strikes the metal, and it is with a view to solving this problem that experiments are being conducted.

I believe that in the earlier stage of wireless power will be locally distributed from cables, under the main roads, and vehicles will pick up the power through the meter as required. In the far future "wireless" power will be sent out from several stations, and practically all machinery will be driven by this source.

WIRELESS PICTURES.
An interesting branch of radio science that will be of use in the future is the transmission of light. To-day we can place a dozen bulbs on a table without any connection, light them inductively by an expenditure of two horse-power, and keep them brightly burning for any length of time. In the far future wireless light may be broadcast from stations in the same way as power.

In 1912 a partial photograph was successfully transmitted by wireless for about four miles, and the methods employed have much improved since that date. There are several methods of transmitting pictures in use to-day, all in elementary stages of usefulness, and it remains to be proved which will eventually be the most efficient for everyday use.

Wireless photographs will eventually be flashed to the newspapers from all parts of the world and published as quickly as news is at present.

The wireless transmission of writing will be of great use in the future. It will speed up business, for business men will be able to see, speak, and write to each other by wireless. Cheques and documents will be signed at a distance, and plans and drawings of all descriptions will be sent by radio.

All branches of radio science will develop steadily, and it is certain that the wireless wonders of the present day are nothing compared with what is yet to come! The development of radio will mean that our neighbours will cease to be far off, and we may call to our friends by the turning over of a lever.

All that we have now from radio has been obtained within a few years. What would our grandparents have said of the wireless telephone? Let that thought be before us.

SHANGHAI WEDDING.

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Sunday afternoon in the Ohel Rachel Synagogue, Shanghai, when Miss Kate Raymond, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Raymond, of Hongkong, and Mr. May Friedman, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. Friedman, were married. The elaborate floral decorations were furnished by the Lewis Nurseries. The bride, who was given away by her brother-in-law, Mr. J. H. Solomon, wore an effective gown of white marcelin, skillfully draped, with a side panel forming a train, caught at the side with a handsome buckle. The lace veil was embroidered with silver and the bridal bouquet was of white roses and ferns. The bridesmaids, Misses Mabel Solomon, Esther Sternberg, Naomi Joseph, Hannah Solomon, Florence Solomon and the flower girl, Miss Hilda Solomon, all wore tulle and silver lace gowns in pastel shades of pink, lavender, pale blue and eau-de-nil and carried sweet peas and carnations. The matron of honour, Mrs. J. H. Solomon, sister of the bride, wore an original creation of pink and silver lace made over a green satin slip and carried pink carnations.

When Baby's Own Tablets, Are Made Your Children's Medicine.

The fame of Baby's Own Tablets, Canada's popular remedy for children's ailments, continues to spread. Here is evidence for a satisfied parent at Baul, Federated Malay States. Mr. G. M. Rajadrum, clerk in the Courts at that place, writes:

"Following a severe cold my child, aged 3 years, had a cough at night which disturbed his sleep. This cough was attended by difficulty in breathing such as you use in asthma, to pile and it went on for about three months."

"The usual cough mixtures were tried but to no use, so I obtained a bottle of Baby's Own Tablets. A change for the better was noticeable in the child before half the Tablets had been used. Now he is quite free from the cough."

"I am indebted to Baby's Own Tablets for the quiet nights he enjoys and for being relieved of all the anxious fears we had as a mother. Guaranteed absolutely pure and harmless even to the youngest infant, Baby's Own Tablets are a safe and gentle remedy for infantile indigestion, constipation, colic, diarrhoea, simple fever, colds, teething pains, worms. HOUSING PROBLEM.

HONGKONG'S RAPACIOUS LANDLORDS.

GOVERNOR'S BITING CRITICISM.

As indicated in the necessarily brief summary of the proceedings given in yesterday's China Mail, the housing problem came up for discussion in the Legislative Council when the second reading of the bill to amend the Rents Ordinance and prevent unnecessary reconstruction was moved by the Attorney General.

Replying to the Hon. Mr. Pollock who had expressed the view that our housing troubles were not likely to be at an end for some years and had drawn attention to the case of a thousand Chinese living in Cook Street, Hungnam, who were to be evicted by their landlords, His Excellency the Governor said:—

I do not grudge the Hon. Mr. Pollock the satisfaction in knowing, as he has said, that he has converted the Government to his view, but I think at the same time I am bound to point out that the opposition to his motion in June last was not Government opposition. I venture to say that it was mainly my own personal view, which apparently has a weight in the Council that both Mr. Pollock and I now deplore. I was careful to say at the time that I left the matter to the unbiased judgment of the Council, and the unbiased judgment of the Official members supported by one unofficial member, was against the hon. member's suggestion. I still adhere to much that I said on that occasion. The fact that it was an advantage to landlords to destroy insanitary property, to pull down their houses and build bigger, was improving affairs in the Colony to a considerable extent, and I confess that where I went wrong was that I thought I had credited the landlords of the Colony with more public spirit and a more refined idea of common honesty than they appear to possess. I thought we might assume as a rule, that a landlord would only pull down his premises for effecting a distinct improvement. I did not suppose there would be so many persons there who, as has been proved, would be prepared to go to the extreme length of destroying good buildings in order to evade the law. I can only express my regret that I took a higher view of humanity than appears to have been justified by local circumstances, and that the hon. member showed a better judgment of his fellow man than I did.

HOUSING EMPLOYEES.

With regard to the question of the premises in Cook Street, if the hon. member will forward the communication he has received to the Colonial Secretary, we will go into the matter; but I should like to observe there are points of difference between this case and the Rutter Street case to which he has referred. In the Rutter Street case the majority of the persons housed there were night-soil carriers, people who perform a somewhat unattractive but very useful function in the interest of the community. It was for these men who, in the interests of the community, we took the trouble to provide new houses. In the present case, if my memory serves, the people in Cook Street are almost without exception employed by the Dock Company and the Cement Works, and I submit for your consideration, gentlemen, that it is a proper thing to expect wealthy companies of that nature to provide for the adequate housing of their working classes rather than to expect possibly less wealthy fellow citizens to assist them, through the medium of the Government. I suggest that the matter is one deserving of the consideration of the companies.

The hon. member went on to deal generally with the question of the renewal of the Rents Ordinance. I feel some diffidence, after what the hon. member has said, in expressing my opinion, but I do again venture to say that I hope this is the last time in which it will be necessary to continue the Ordinance. At the same time, if it is necessary to do so, I shall have no hesitation in once again proposing a further amendment.

I should like to correct the hon. member on one point. I do not propose to bring forward this resolution as a Government measure, but, intend to leave the matter entirely to the discretion of the Council. I do not propose to ask the Government majority to vote against its inclination or conscience, and the conscience of the Official majority will be very much in accordance with my own views in this matter.

POPULATION FIGURES.

The hon. member referred to the fact that according to a very curious and recalcitrant method of calculation, certain authorities believed the population of this Colony to be about 1,300,000. I am not absolutely sure of the data upon which that calculation is made, but it is a very large increase on the figure of 1,000,000, or the number of the

HU-LA-LA-LA.

HAWAIIAN'S KOWLOON SUCCESS.

When we see a starch-fronted audience wringing its shoulders and cringing its stiff collars and hear a faint mumble of words sounding vaguely like "Yakka-lieky-hulu-toosie-loosie", there must be something in the air which is infectious. Hawaiian music is catching and leaves its victims exhausted. If the Royal Hawaiian directed by Irene West at the Star Theatre last night had given more of their concerted items and less of their sentimental solos—sentimental they must have been, though the words were anything but so—the audience would have left the theatre with dislocated shoulders and felt growing round their waists. Hawaiian music indeed, gets right to the bones, if taken in moderate doses. It is sentimental, soothing and restorative. The dancing requires just one word—"seductive". Frincess Helen knew all the tricks and gave them, and was cheered. She danced the famous Hula to perfection and everyone left mumbling "Oo-la-la-la."

BIRDS.

O! Birds of the air, rise!
Away to the valley yonder—
Pierce through opaline skies—
Return with your tale of wonder.

Then fill the clouds with His song
And mimic the joys of regret—
And tarry! Your moments are long
For mankind would ere forget.

Twitter His notes of peace,
A veal of woe's on the sod—
Change sad hearts into bliss,
And all glory be to God!

—H. M. Silva.

census of 1921, because it so happens that the calculations were made in the year 1922, when the official figures were somewhere under 700,000, whereas the calculation put the population of the Colony at 1,300,000. I should think it possible that at the present time the correct figure is somewhere between the two.

As the hon. member rightly says, a great deal depends upon the restoration of order in Canton, and, as he again rightly says, the present circumstances do not seem to indicate that the restoration of order is a matter of "imminency." His point is raised by increasing the staff of the Public Works Department. I must leave to the Director of Public Works what he thinks will be able to answer the question.

BISHOPS IN HONGKONG.

TO ATTEND THE DIOCESAN CONFERENCE.

Delegates to the Synod of the Chinese Church, which, unprecedented in its history, will meet this year at Canton from March 16 to the 23rd, are arriving in Hongkong in varying numbers, and it is expected, will be here to attend the Diocesan Conference of the Church of England to be held on Monday, March 10, at St. John's Cathedral.

The visiting Bishops include Bishop Graves of Chekiang, Bishop Hind of Foochow, Bishop Dawson of Labuan and Sarawak, Bishop Norris of Peking, Bishop Mosher of the Philippine Islands, Bishop Maloney of Shanghai, Bishop Ferguson-Davies of Singapore and Bishop Scott of Shantung, with Bishops Hare, Root, Benister, White, Huntington, an American Bishop and one Chinese Bishop.

The Diocesan Conference, open to the public at its two sessions, 2.30 to 4.30 p.m., and 5.15 to 6.45 p.m., will be presided over by the Bishop of Victoria. The R. J. Northcott, C. F., will open a discussion on "Where is the Church Failing?" At 5.15 p.m., Bishop Maloney will open on the subject "What is meant by a Mission of Help? Do we need one in the Far East?" He will be followed by the Bishop of Singapore on "Some Practical Suggestions."

The visiting Bishops will be welcomed on Friday, 14th, at the City Hall by the Victoria Diocesan Association. The Bishop of Victoria and Sir Claud Severn will speak at meeting.

NEW UNION CHURCH.

SITE SELECTED IN KOWLOON.

To make application to the Government for a site near the new Kowloon Hospital on which to build a new church for Kowloon, is the decision reached by the Committee of the Union Church after protracted negotiations. A Kowloon Site Committee comprising a group of well known church-goers took up the idea after its first proposal and have been in communication with the Government regarding the suitability of several sites. Many possible sites have been viewed, one near Hungnam, another near Yau-mati, whilst at one time endeavour were made to secure a piece of ground on the Whitfield Barracks area, or in King's Park, adjoining Gascoigne Road.

The King's Park proposal could not be entertained by the Government owing to certain conditions imposed by the War Department. Eventually, and in view of the prospects of rapid development, a visit was made to land near the site of the Kowloon Hospital, and as a result it is learnt that the General Committee of the Union Church has resolved to ask the Government for a plot of ground in this vicinity.

In the meantime it has been decided to erect a temporary church on the small plot of vacant ground at the end of Cox's Path, which abuts on Jordan Road. Services are at present being held in the Central British school.

SMOKE AND FLAME.

THRILLING FIRE PICTURE HERE.

Through the choking fumes and the scorching flames, the old fireman stumbles to rescue his only son who is entrapped in a burning building with his sweetheart. Perils that have daunted the bravest cannot halt his valiant step, discharged from the bridge though he has been as too old for further service. What is the impulse that drives him on where younger men have quailed?—a father's love for his son, the grim desire to defeat an enemy's nefarious plans, the innate love of battle against the terrible demon fire. These are questions that cannot be answered in a sentence, for they are questions which delve deep into the intense drama of the great screen now showing at the Coronet Theatre.

"The Third Alarm" is not a picture built round a single exploit, however thrilling; it is a picture that contains all the elements of real life—romance, pathos and comedy. Therein lies its great appeal—the wide, penetrating appeal which reaches all classes of cinegoers and holds them fascinated in a common bond.

Cairo, March 5.—The Procurator-General is enquiring into the spread of Communist ideas among Alexandria workmen and the possibility of ramifications in the provinces. Employees of the Vacuum Oil Company Ltd. have struck. Workers at the Kafrelayaz Cotton Company's factory have returned, but the Aboucharoun Cotton Oil factory, which the employees formerly took possession of and then evacuated, are still closed, the proprietors refusing to compromise on the men's demands.

ENGAGING EXTRA MEN.

HON. MR. POLLOCK'S QUERIES.

In the course of his speech in the Legislative Council yesterday afternoon the Hon. Mr. Pollock said:—

In connection with this abnormal demand for building in this Colony I should like, if I may do so—and I hope I am not taking you at a disadvantage—to enquire of the hon. Director of Public Works what steps have been taken, and whether those steps have proved effective, for carrying out certain recommendations made by the Commission with regard to the increase of the Survey Department and the increase of the Building Ordinance Office department of the Public Works Department. My fellow Commissioners and I were very much impressed with the fact that both these departments of the Public Works Department were seriously under-manned, and we should like some assurance that the steps are being taken to remedy the deficiencies in the staff. I would like to carry out the recommendation made in paragraph 50 of the Commissioner's report, that "In the meantime, to meet the present urgent demand of the public for the speedier issuing out of building plans, we suggest that the Government should, forthwith, endeavour to engage the services for a period of 12 months, of a temporary Engineering and Survey staff from the local Naval and Military Forces." I think, Sir, that is all I want to say on the second reading of the Bill.

The Director of Public Works replied: Up to the present time several officers have been indentured for and are on their way out. We have received notice that they are coming. I should like, if I may, without giving the figures now, to be allowed to submit a statement. I cannot tell you exactly, but I think we have four additional men since we were asked to obtain them. There has been considerable delay in obtaining them, but they will arrive soon. I will submit a correct statement as to how we stand.

Hon. Mr. Pollock: Can this hon. member tell us what branches of the Public Works Department they are coming to?

The Director of Public Works: There are two Surveyors and I think I am correct in saying there is one man for the Building Ordinance Office. One will be relieved to go there by an additional man in the architects' department. I can give you a correct statement as to how the matter stands if I may have a little notice.

Hon. Mr. Pollock: Has there been any difficulty experienced in some cases? For instance has a man been appointed and failed to come? Has there been any difficulty in getting men out from Home?

The Director of Public Works: Not in the two departments you have mentioned, but in the architects' department, yes.

Hon. Mr. Pollock: What is the reason?

The Director of Public Works: They did not give us a reason. They sent us a telegram afterwards that these men had withdrawn.

His Excellency the Governor: The reason, I think, is that the men are really not available owing to the interruption in the trade by the war.

HONGKONG WEDDING.

The wedding of Dr. C. H. Wao, M.B., F.R.C.S. (Edin.), highly popular among the local Chinese medical fraternity, and Miss. Luf-Wing-chob, at the Union Church yesterday, attracted an admiring gathering of friends who were unrestrainedly eloquent in their congratulations at a reception given last night in honour of the happy couple at the Yee Wo restaurant.

At the church ceremony, conducted by the Rev. J. Kirk Macdonald, the bride, given away by Dr. Y. K. To, was dressed in pink silk and wore veil and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of pink roses, and was attended by two bridesmaids, the Misses To, who wore dresses of pale blue silk and also carried bouquets of pink roses. The duties of best man were carried out by Dr. S. To Wong, who was in England with the bridegroom. Mr. S. Collett directed the music which included a hymn sung in Chinese, and as the couple left the Church, Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

MURDER BY BOYS.

VICTIM'S FOOT SENT TO FATHER.

On December 10 Berthold Falk, a lad of 15, apprentice in a motor-car works at Rheine, Westphalia, disappeared from his parents' house. The police failed to find him. On December 12 Berthold's father received a letter intimating that if he threw a packet containing 25,000 marks out of the window of a car at a certain place and time he would receive news of his son.

He did not obey, and on December 19 a leather case which he had lost was found in the street and taken to him. Inside was a human foot to which was attached a label bearing the words, "Berthold Falk's left foot."

A few days later the father received another letter stating that if 50,000 marks were not deposited at a certain place he would receive his son's left hand.

At the end of the week a third anonymous letter arrived with an order to display in the window of Falk's house how much he was willing to pay.

This was done, and the father saw two lads, Willi Delters, aged 16, and Paul Krause, 18, looking up at the window. He followed them and caught phrases of their conversation which justified his going to the police to denounce the two as the murderers of his son.

They were arrested, and related the story of their crime with indifference. Both were fellow-apprentices of Berthold. Towards the end of November they planned to murder him to extort money from his father. On the night of his disappearance they asked him to come to the garden of Krause's home to see a motor-bicycle. In the garden one pointed a revolver at him while the other thrust a handkerchief over his mouth to prevent him from shouting. Then they tied him hand and foot with cords, struck him on the head until he appeared to lose consciousness, then dragged him to a grave which was already dug, and thrust him in. Whether alive or dead is not known. They filled in the earth and stamped it down.

Finding the attempt to extort money from the victim's father unsuccessful, Krause opened the grave and hacked off the foot which he sent to the father.

NEW MICROBES.

SUCCESSFUL SEARCH FOR "TOOTHACHE BUG."

Several microbes newly discovered are mentioned in the annual statement of the Medical Research Council in London. A kind of microbe which has been occupying the attention of the investigators might be popularly termed the "toothache bug."

In searching for this elusive thing Dr. J. K. Clarke and Dr. L. Colebrook isolated from various teeth a microbe of a type hitherto undescribed. Its shape is like a spherical shell and the name, streptococcus mutans, is proposed for it. Many more microbes have been added this year to the national collection at the Lister Institute. There are 250 fresh types. Included in these types are bacteria which make colouring dyes.

HONGKONG TIDES.

The tide-table given below has been compiled at the National Almanac Office in London from the results of the analysis of observations taken by means of the automatic tide-recording machine in the Water Police Basin at Tsim Sha Tsui during the years 1908-9.

The zero of the table corresponds with the zero of the sounding in the Admiralty Chart, which has been found to be 4 feet below mean sea-level.

To obtain the depth of water on the tide gauge at the Victoria Naval Yard add 5 feet 4 inches, and on the gauge at Lamont Dock, Aberdeen, add 10 feet 4 inches to the height given in the table.

February 27 to March 4, 1924.
